Issued by Civic Communications, Inc:

In the middle of the night, PCL Civil Constructors made the decision to postpone the start of the ten (10) day Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway Closure until Thursday, February 4, 2010. While crews were able to move the swing span onto the barges yesterday afternoon, the day's soaking weather had some adverse impacts on the jacking and pumping operations necessary to secure the swing span for safe travel.

With drier weather anticipated for the day, crews expect to secure the span by early afternoon and begin the tow of the span around 4:00 am on Thursday morning. The Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway will close at 7:00 am and the rest of the schedule will proceed as planned with a shift of the Ben Sawyer Boulevard and bridge closure to Saturday, February 6, 2010.
