

Battery Gadsden Cultural Center & National Park Service Present:

Doreen Larimer

Discovering the History of Your Lowcountry Property

DATE: October 19, 2017    TIME: 6:00-7:00 pm

VENUE: Fort Moultrie Visitor Center Auditorium
1214 Middle St., Sullivan's Island, SC

Titles to property in the Lowcountry date back to the 1600s, and South Carolina has a rich trove of land records that document ownership dating back to the original land grants. Doreen Larimer is a real estate abstractor who has 35 years of experience in the Lowcountry with special expertise in historic property title searches including those deeded by King's Grant.

This presentation promises to be of interest to all of us who are curious about the previous owners of our property, the location of an ancestor's home, or the price paid for the house down the street. Doreen Larimer will explain basic terminology, how to navigate the County's web sites, and how to build a chain of title, using examples from the 1600s to the present.

This event is free and open to the public. It is Co-sponsored by:
